Early retirement? Check. Epic home makeover? Absolutely. Campervan escape? Ready to roll. Dream holiday? Just a ticket away. This isn't just any prize. It's your win, your way.

Deaf Lottery winners are one of a kind. They dream big, live big, and never stop short of making an impact. And that's where we come in – to deliver those dreams, while making a lasting difference in the lives of so many across Australia.

Want to know the best part? Every ticket does more than put you in the running for a huge prize. Proceeds from the Deaf Lottery support Deaf Connect's work, creating opportunities for Deaf Australians to live connected, fulfilling lives throughout the country.

Supporting Team Australia at the Tokyo Deaf Olympics

Did you know there is an Olympics for the Deaf Community? Deafness is not a paralympic disability sport, instead Deaf Australians can compete in the Deaflympics every four years, which actually predates the Paralympic Games.

Deaf Connect is the major sponsor of Team Australia and will be supporting our athletes going for gold at this year's Deaflympics in Tokyo. Deaf Connect and Deaf Lottery have a long association with Deaf sports – and the Deaflympics is always the highest level of attainment for a Deaf athlete. We can't wait to see them compete on the world stage!

Fresh off their Gold and Silver medals in the Asia Pacific Deaf Basketball Championships, the men's and women's basketball teams (the Goannas and the Geckos) will be one of the teams to watch at the Deaflympics.

One of these athletes is Sam Cartledge, the starting point guard for the Australian Men's Deaf Basketball Team.

Here's what he had to say about the journey:

"Representing Australia at the Deaflympics, to me is an incredible privilege. We're not just representing Australia, but we're also representing the Australian Deaf community. They are watching us.

I think it's important that we try our hardest so that we can be good role models for our Deaf youth, showing them that we mean business.

We are trying our hardest so that they in the future, can have the same opportunities to attend the Deaflympics too.

This year, it's important that we as a team attend these events and compete to the very best of our ability to try our hardest and not to treat it lightly because we're representing everyone back home in Australia."

Your support helps people like Sam to connect with other Deaf people across Australia and the world – creating culture, connection, and a strong community.
